Subject: re burial legislation

I am totally against any amendment to the current legislation the time frame is totally inadequate we do not need any further public bodies created there is enough stress and misinformation in the funeral industry there needs to be adequate time for organisations with an interest therein to meet and discuss options compensation for sexual abuse needs to be put on hold ,as throwing money at a problem will only create further problems, an opening of a pandoras box>>>>>>>>>>>>>>> victims need psychological assessment and support to enable them to come to terms with their trauma FIRST before any if any monetary compensation is considered.
