Hi Madeleine

Was lovely to see you again on Friday evening at the TasICT Awards.

I'm just reaching out to book in our coffee catch up as discussed so that I can chat to you a bit more about our growth plans for 42-24. Can you please let me know a few times that might suit you over the next few weeks? I know your diary is going to be a lot more challenging than mine. If it's easier, happy for someone from your office to give me a call to co-ordinate as I have a few days out of the office with travel, etc coming up also.

I've attached the 42-24 Strategic Plan that we prepared last year for your information. However, we are currently in the process of revising our strategy.

Looking forward to catching up.

Thanks

Kelly

42-24

Key Messages

- FortyTwo24 Pty Ltd (42-24) commenced operations on 1 July 2018
- 42-24 was established as a result of regulatory requirements under the Australian Energy Regulators Distribution Ring Fencing Guideline
- 42-24 offers telecommunications, data centre and information technology services previously offered by TasNetworks
- In line with business expectations, 42-24 is currently pursuing opportunities to deliver revenue growth and diversification opportunities

Background

In 2017, the Australian Energy Regulator (AER) developed the Distribution Ring Fencing Guideline (Guideline). The objective of the Guideline was to provide a level playing field for third party providers in new and existing markets for contestable services, such as those for metering and energy storage services, to promote competition in the provision of electricity services.

To avoid the above, the Guideline requires DNSP's to:

1. Legally separate any unregulated (non-distribution) services it provides from its regulated distribution services; and
2. Functionally separate any contestable electricity services it provides from its regulated distribution services.

42-24 does not currently provide any contestable electricity services, however it does undertake a number of 'other services' that require legal separation including:

- Telecommunications
- Data centre services
- IT Services (including IaaS)

Key Issues

The TasNetworks Cost Allocation Methodology is utilised for non-regulated activities to ensure there is no cross subsidisation from electricity customers.

This methodology was approved by the Australian Energy Regulator (AER) in June 2015 and subject to audit by our external auditors as part of the annual financial audit and regulatory submission processes.

To ensure overall compliance with the Guideline, 42-24 must submit an annual compliance report to the AER by 31 October each year, accompanied by an assessment of compliance by an independent authority.

Current Status

- As part of TasNetworks' strategic focus on growing un-regulated commercial opportunities, 42-24 has been tasked with increasing profit and maximising returns to Shareholders.
- 42-24's technology division is seeking to grow its existing core services while expanding into the provision of cyber security and other opportunities associated with 5G and the internet of things
- 42-24 has also recently developed a whole of state digital twin called Virtual TAS in a joint venture with Enzen Australia. Using laser scanning and image capture technology, along with the ability to model and visualise big data, Virtual TAS will create a life-scale 4D map (known as Digital Twin) which will be used to help prevent and respond to natural disasters (eg. bushfires and flooding), guide remote rescue missions and guide new infrastructure and developments.
- The IT Services market is also currently experiencing a changing and competitive landscape and 42-24 needs to remain agile to compete and win business. Growing and acquiring key capability quickly is critical for this success.
- To assist in achieving these objectives, there is real opportunity for 42-24 to expand operations its technology and energy segments with a robust growth strategy. This strategy is focused on shifting the business from current to future state and involves strong growth in market presence, the types of products and services on offer, core capabilities, human resources and, importantly, financial metrics.

Next Steps

- 42-24's intention is to grow capability in technology services over the next 3 years. To achieve this, the business will focus on the Tasmanian enterprise and government technology sectors, with projects of strategic importance to the Tasmanian Government seen as a key priority.
- As part of this approach, 42-24 is currently recruiting personnel that can help achieve growth across both technology and energy services.
- Beyond organic growth, 42-24 will also be looking into merger and acquisition activity as a means to deliver more substantial growth and increase delivery capability (subject to Shareholder and Board approvals).
- 42-24 is uniquely positioned to service the State Government sector due to the scale and experience of its technology team. Additionally, there is currently a heightened level of focus on cyber security in the critical infrastructure space, so it is logical to collaborate to create a state based Cyber Security Operations Centre for Tasmania.

- 42-24 and Ernst & Young (EY) have been working together to co-design a strategic joint delivery model to deliver go-to-market cyber security services through 42-24 that drives profitable growth, supports the Tasmanian Government Cyber Policy and associated strategy and rapidly uplifts the future Digital and Cyber capabilities of TasNetworks, the State of Tasmania and the broader community.
- While some competition between 42-24 and other businesses is unavoidable, 42-24 is currently focusing on niches that have proven hard to create in Tasmania and therefore expects to compete with predominantly mainland based businesses. Importantly, 42-24 is open to conversations around partnering with local service providers.

Good morning Kathryn,

Hope you're all well and enjoyed the weekend.

On 13 April, 42-24 and Palo Alto Networks are partnering with TasICT to present at the next industry Tapas and Technology event.

Lisa Sim, Director Asia Pacific and Japan (Palo Alto Networks) will be joining us as a key speaker and is available for stakeholder meetings prior to the event.

I'm currently building the schedule for Lisa's visit and seeking Minister Ogilvie's availability please for an 11am meeting on 13 April or a suitable time in the afternoon?

Palo Alto Networks are a key strategic technology and security partner of 42-24; with a focus on skills development, cyber awareness and workforce development through Palo Alto's Cyberfit Nation and Cyber Safe Kids initiatives that Lisa leads.

The proposed meeting is an opportunity for us to introduce Lisa to Minister Ogilvie and yourself, as well as an open discussion into Palo Alto's cyber initiatives across government and industry.

Please see Lisa's bio below.

Get ready for the deluge

Please save the dates.

As daylight saving draws to an end and the autumn skies are filled with rainclouds, TasICT has a flood of great events ahead for the ICT sector.

It's been while between drinks, but we promise to make up for that starting with opportunities to catch up with industry colleagues during April.

Information flow

The first TasICT Tapas and Technology networking event for 2023 is on Thursday, April 13, at the LOFT, Botanica Bar, Salamanca Square, Hobart.

It's free to attend, but you need to register so we can assure that we cater appropriately with enough delicious finger food and refreshing drinks.

42-24 and their key strategic technology and security partner; Palo Alto Networks invite you to join us and hear from guest speaker Lisa Sim, Director Asia Pacific & Japan (Palo Alto Networks), as well as 42-24 Sales and Tech Leader Alex Ladaniwskyj.

Lisa will address the cyber security skills shortage crisis, building cyber security fitness in Tasmania and educating children on digital safety.

Alex will enlighten us with an update on 42-24's latest solution powered by Palo Alto Networks - FireWall as a Service (FWaaS) and lifting maturity and partnering for a Cyber Fit Tasmania.

Pouring with Pride

2023 is a very special year for the Tasmanian IT & T Industry Development Association (that's TasICT) as it marks a quarter of a century of service to the Information, Communication & Technology sector as its Peak Industry Body.

Since the Association was incorporated in 1998, we've come a long way and shared many successes together. That makes us proud and gives us the perfect excuse for a celebration! One of the strengths of TasICT has been the ability to bring together industry colleagues at networking events, so it's fitting that our 25th Anniversary celebration is a Cocktail Party.

It's a chance to reflect on how far we have come and look at what the future holds for the Tasmanian ICT industry. It's also a chance to honour the many volunteers who have contributed to the organisation over the years. We will also recognise the important partnership TasICT has developed with the Tasmanian Government. We couldn't have come this far without all the individuals and the businesses that have supported TasICT by joining up as members. Speaking of which, THANK YOU to the businesses which have come on board as Event Partners for the 25th Anniversary Cockatail Party.

Whet your appetite

Here's the chance to set up your diary and make sure you don't schedule any clashes with the events we have planned in 2023. Of course, there may be more events added to the 2023 Calendar of Events as we go, but this is what TasiCT has planned so far. As the time gets closer we'll let you know the finer details including times, venues and other information.

Each of the Events has sponsorship and partnership opportunities associated with it, so as you map out your 2023/2024 budget, make sure you include the events you are interested in supporting. Contact TasiCT CEO Steve Adermann for additional details on any of the events on the 2023 Calendar.

Hi Kathryn,

Hope you're well.

Just on the back of this one, the Tapas and Tech event that we are holding with Palo Alto on the evening of 13 April has reached its participant cap however, should the minister be interested in attending – Skye from our side can ensure there is a spot available on the night. If you can let Skye know if Madeleine is intending to come along – that would be great. (details attached)

Cheers

Hey Alex

Yes, the Minister would like to meet with Lisa. Sorry about the delay I'm coming back to you.

Daisy can you please find a time that works in line with the times that Alex has outlined below? I think the afternoon is probably best for the Ministers diary.

Cheers,
Kathryn

Good morning Kathryn,

Hope you're all well and enjoyed the weekend.

On 13 April, 42-24 and Palo Alto Networks are partnering with TasICT to present at the next industry Tapas and Technology event.

Lisa Sim, Director Asia Pacific and Japan (Palo Alto Networks) will be joining us as a key speaker and is available for stakeholder meetings prior to the event.

I'm currently building the schedule for Lisa's visit and seeking Minister Ogilvie's availability please for an 11am meeting on 13 April or a suitable time in the afternoon?

Palo Alto Networks are a key strategic technology and security partner of 42-24; with a focus on skills development, cyber awareness and workforce development through Palo Alto's Cyberfit Nation and Cyber Safe Kids initiatives that Lisa leads.

The proposed meeting is an opportunity for us to introduce Lisa to Minister Ogilvie and yourself, as well as an open discussion into Palo Alto's cyber initiatives across government and industry.

Please see Lisa's bio below.

Afternoon Kathryn,

Hope your Monday is treating you well.

As discussed, please find attached briefing pack for 42-24's RCP submission for sharing with Minister Ogilvie. The briefing pack contains the high level objectives of the project submissions, as well as verbatim excerpts from letters of support received from stakeholders and businesses in the region.

We understand from discussions with State Growth that a request has/will be sent for signature to the minister for her endorsement of the submissions in form of a letter of support. It would be appreciated if we are able to receive the letter by the end of this week as we're wrapping up this stage of our RCP project to prepare for submission next week.

As you know, the letters greatly assist us with our submissions to secure funding for the projects that will provide great benefit to the communities, economy, tourism and a step further in closing the digital divide in the region.

Let me know if you would still like to arrange a phone call with Dean and Dan to talk through this further. Otherwise, happy to grab a little bit of time at CyberCon on Thursday to talk through.

Cheers
Alex

Regional Connectivity Program Proposal.

Cradle Mountain | Strahan | Tullah | Zeehan

July 2023

What we're doing.

The Australian Government is committed to increasing connectivity, bridging the digital divide, improving mobile coverage, and protecting communities against natural disasters.

The objectives of Round 3 of the Regional Connectivity Program are for a place-based approach to target telecommunications infrastructure investment that will respond to local priorities and maximise economic opportunities and social benefits.

Our proposal will upgrade the infrastructure connecting areas on the West Coast from wireless radio to optic fibre, resulting in faster and more reliable communications for people living, working and visiting this region. These changes will increase backhaul capability throughout these regions, increasing network capacity for both existing retail service providers as well as any new providers seeking to enter the area.

FortyTwo24

What we're doing.

We have identified four locations to upgrade the infrastructure – Cradle Mountain, Strahan, Zeehan and Tullah. There are some slightly different engineering solutions for each location, however the common points are:

- connecting to TasNetworks' existing optic fibre
- extending new fibre over existing power poles
- establishing a strategic point of presence within the service area allowing service providers to connect their networks

Our applications rely on businesses and organisations across Cradle Mountain, Strahan, Tullah and Zeehan sharing their experiences with us. If we don't understand the shortfalls of the current infrastructure, we can't work to improve it.

Importantly, we don't want to change what makes the West Coast what it is – our proposal simply allows those who need to harness the power of fast and reliable communications to do so, and maybe tempt a few more people to come and explore along the way!

FortyTwo24

Why we're doing it.

The digital divide is growing faster than ever, and we want to ensure that nobody is left behind. Despite pockets of prosperity, the West/North West is not a wealthy region, with half of the residents earning less than $40,000 a year – below the Tasmanian median. The difficulties associated with finding secure and adequate employment is a key contributor to this, and with the growth of careers within the digital sector, success in our applications present a viable pathway to assisting people in these areas.

Outside of residents, these regions are some of Tasmania's most visited by tourists, with Strahan and Cradle Mountain being particularly popular. Providing increased business opportunity and security for operators and employees in these areas, as well as the level of connectivity expected by the thousands of visitors every year is a key outcome of this proposal.

How you can help.

We would be grateful for your support in the form of Letter of Support for our application to the Commonwealth Government. We were previously awarded funding in the second round of grants to improve connectivity to UTAS' Greenhill Observatory, enhancing Australia's sovereign space capability.

Whilst we have already received Letters of Support from local councils, government departments, tourism operators and local business people, any additional support will further ensure our application is compelling and addresses the needs of as many people as possible.

Fortytwo24

What are people telling us?

"The provision of better connectivity and increased data will enable us to grow our business and connect with our customers faster." – West Coast Heritage Centre, Zeehan

"Bridging the divide in communications across the state and decreasing connectivity disadvantages for rural/regional areas is of paramount importance, not only for the tourism industry, but for all Tasmanian residents, businesses and visitors." – West by North West Regional Tourism

"We can see this project being a major benefit to our business and every other person in Strahan... many other businesses will be able to improve the services we offer here, which can then increase their business and open up more opportunities for other businesses to operate here" – World Heritage Cruises, Strahan

What are people telling us?

"Providing improved telecommunications and connectivity infrastructure can assist in providing the region with a more equal footing as those in the more populated built-up regions of the State. This can more effectively attract businesses, work from home operators and start-ups to establish in the region... improved capacity not only stimulates economic growth but also provides significant benefits for the community"
- West Coast Council

"(We) understand the important role effective communication plays in our community's lives generally and the impact on businesses specifically. (We) believe this project has the potential to transform our community in numerous ways, bringing us closer together and fostering growth and progress. We know the urgent need for infrastructure upgrades... and are pleased to support the Fortytwo24 Pty Ltd submission for the whole community's benefit" - Cradle Coast Authority

MINUTE TO THE MINISTER FOR SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

SUBJECT: REGIONAL CONNECTIVITY PROGRAM, ROUND 3

LETTER OF SUPPORT FOR 42-24 PTY LTD FOR PROPOSED WEST COAST TELECOMMUNICATIONS UPGRADES

Recommendation:

That you:

1. SIGN the letter (Attachment 2) to 42-24 Pty Ltd (42-24) supporting its application for funding under Round 3 of the Regional Connectivity Program (RCP) to upgrade telecommunications infrastructure at Strahan, Zeehan, Tullah, and Cradle Mountain.
2. Forward the signed letter to Mr Alex Ladaniwskyj, 42-24, at alex.ladaniwskyj@42-24.com.au.
3. NOTE that 42-24 has offered to meet with you to provide a formal briefing on proposed project.
4. NOTE that 42-24 is not seeking a Tasmanian Government co-investment for its application.

Current Situation:

Your office has requested that the Department of State Growth prepare a letter of support for 42-24 Pty Ltd's application under Round 3 of the Australian Government's Regional Connectivity Program.

This application will seek funding to upgrade telecommunications infrastructure connecting Cradle Mountain, Zeehan, Strahan, and Tullah from wireless radio technology to optic fibre. Specifically, each proposed upgrade will include:

- a new interconnection with TasNetworks' existing optic fibre
- the extension of new optic fibre over existing electrical distribution poles
- the establishment of a strategic point of presence within the optic fibre service area, allowing telecommunications service providers to connect their networks.

The upgrade will deliver faster and more reliable communications throughout the region. Maps of the proposed infrastructure at Strahan, Zeehan, and Cradle Mountain, are included at Attachment I.

s.27

s.39

42-24 has indicated that Hydro Tasmania will provide a co-contribution of $200,000 towards new fibre to support its establishment of a 'workers' village' to accommodate workers needed for Battery of the Nation work being undertaken in Tullah.

It is relevant to note that 42-24's Round 1 project to upgrade telecommunications services supporting the Bisdee Tier Observatory were completed successfully, with a minimal delay of just two months.

Background:The program

The Australian Government's Regional Connectivity Program is a competitive grants program funding the delivery of 'place-based' telecommunications infrastructure projects to improve digital connectivity across regional, rural and remote Australia.

The current Round 3 is being undertaken in parallel with Round 7 of the Mobile Black Spot Program (MBSP), to improve mobile and broadband connectivity in regional, rural and First Nations communities across Australia:

- a $110 million Regional Connectivity (Round 3) stream for place-based solutions that deliver new or upgraded broadband services or upgraded mobile services in eligible locations across Australia and
- a $50 million Mobile Black Spot (Round 7) stream that delivers new handheld mobile coverage to rural, regional and remote locations across Australia.

Applicants are strongly encouraged to consult with, and seek the support of, state and territory Governments in relation to their proposed solutions.

Applications for both the RCP and the MBSP close on Friday 11 August 2023.

The Tasmanian Government's participation in earlier RCP rounds

The Tasmanian Government has provided financial and non-financial support to several initiatives over both previous rounds:

- $1.4 million to three initiatives under Round 1, including $1 million for King Island transmission and mobile networks (completion expected by September 2023), $150,000 for the 42-24 Bisdie Tier Observatory (completed June 2022) and $261,000 for nine schools.

Three other Tasmanian projects were successful, including an NBN fibre extension from Franklin to Geeveston and Glen Huon, new small cells at Jericho and Lovely Banks (Midland Highway); and connectivity upgrades at the Tahune Airwalk and the Warra Ecosystem Observatory (TasmaNet).

- $622,000 for four initiatives under Round 2, including $185,940 for Deddington, $179,928 for Royal George, $217,275 for Lake Leake and $100,000 for Pelham.

Several other projects were also successful, including four new Telstra macro mobile sites at Boat Harbour, Port Latta, Marrawah/Redpa and Lower Scotchtown and a fixed wireless network providing broadband coverage to the Cradle Coast agricultural precinct and neighbouring areas.

Regional Connectivity Program – Round 3

Background

The Australian Government is committed to increasing connectivity, bridging the digital divide, improving mobile coverage, and protecting communities against natural disasters. The objectives of the Regional Connectivity Program Round 3 are for a place-based approach to target telecommunications infrastructure investment that will respond to local priorities and maximise economic opportunities and social benefits

The expected outcomes are to provide place-based RCP solutions to regional digital connectivity issues through a range of new or improved broadband services

For RCP Solutions, the Round 3 grant will focus on areas of:

- High economic value and or social value
- Where better connectivity and increased data have a clear benefit to a local region
- Outside the NBN fixed-line footprint

We have identified four locations to upgrade the infrastructure – Cradle Mountain, Strahan, Zeehan and Tullah. There are some slightly different engineering solutions for each location with the common technical solution including:

- New interconnection with TasNetworks' existing optic fibre
- Extend new optic fibre over existing electrical distribution poles to your region
- Establish a strategic point of presence within the optic fibre service area allowing telecommunications service providers to connect their networks

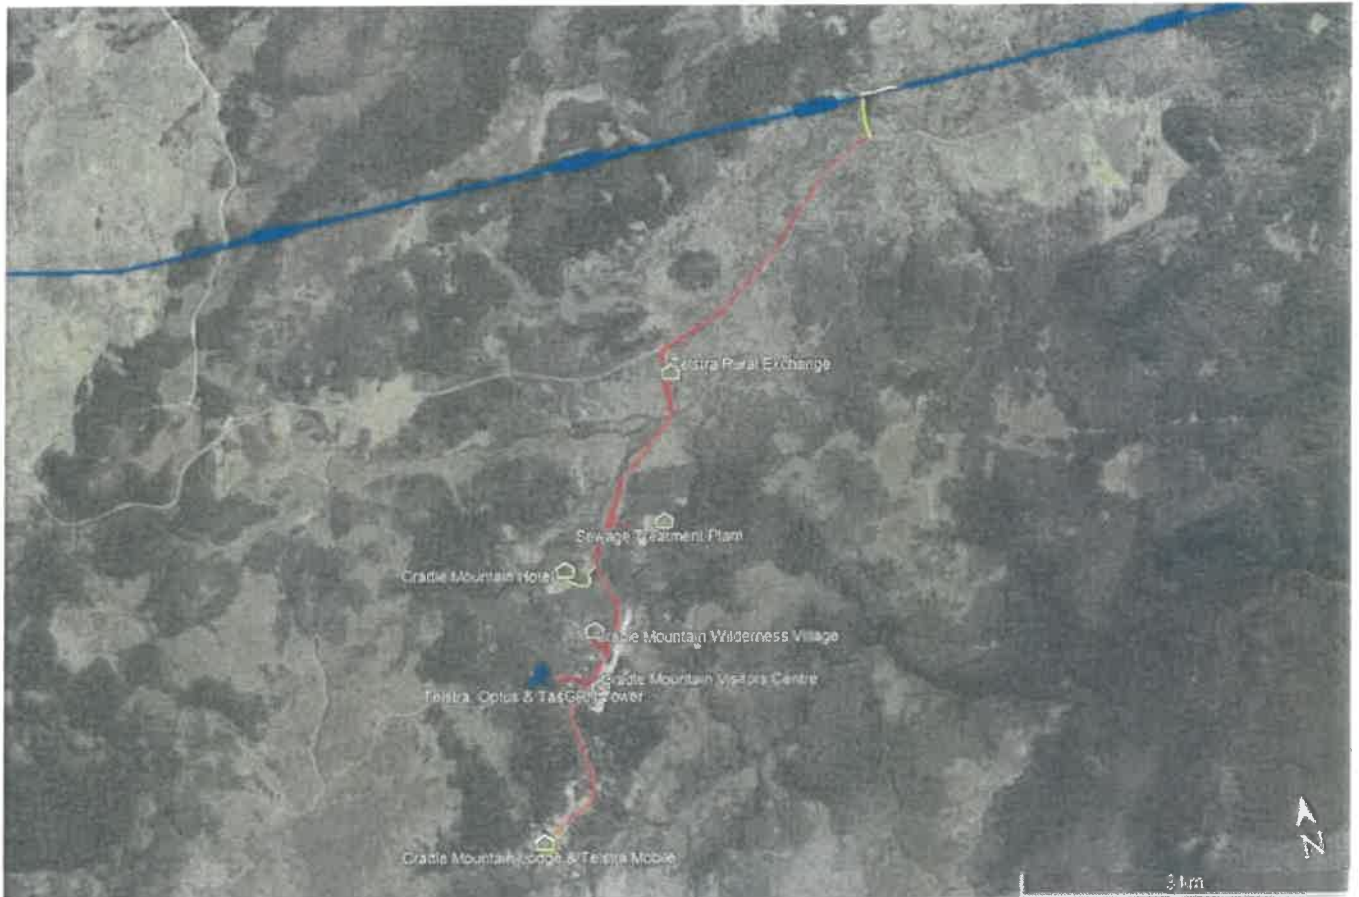

For further information, you can visit <https://www.infrastructure.gov.au/media-communications-arts/internet/regional-connectivity-program>

LETTER OF SUPPORT – 42-24 APPLICATION TO THE REGIONAL CONNECTIVITY PROGRAM FOR STRAHAN, CRADLE MOUNTAIN, TULLAH AND ZEEHAN

To Whom it May Concern

The Tasmanian Government supports 42-24's application for funding under Round 3 of the Regional Connectivity Program (RCP) to upgrade telecommunications infrastructure connecting the communities of Cradle Mountain, Zeehan, Strahan, and Tullah, from wireless radio technology to optic fibre.

The upgrades detailed in the application represent a transformational opportunity for the four communities and the almost 1,700 people who reside within them. Indeed, 42-24's extensive consultations with local communities and business have confirmed strong support for proposed solutions to the regions' protracted and challenging connectivity issues. The Tasmanian Government can also independently confirm the communities' keen desire for improved connectivity.

The new fibre infrastructure is expected to underpin the economic viability and competitiveness of the region's key employers, especially within the state's vital mining, renewable energy (including Battery of the Nation and wind initiatives) and tourism sectors. The four communities are all home to a diverse range of enterprises whose ability to drive productivity growth, or even maintain their competitive position, through new projects and innovations is seriously impeded by unreliable and congested connectivity. Connectivity shortfalls also impact the regions' ability to attract and retain staff, especially in times of labour scarcity.

Strahan, Zeehan, and Tullah are located on Tasmania's renowned, but relatively inaccessible, west coast, while the iconic Cradle Mountain is located in the remote central highlands. All four locations feature on Tasmania's increasingly popular tourist trail and host ever-growing numbers of visitors each year. Many of those visitors are attracted to the region's rugged mountain biking and walking terrain, isolation and challenging weather conditions.

However, those same attributes pose an inherent risk to both residents and visitors. Moreover, the region is at increasing risk of bushfire as climate change reduces rainfall and increases temperatures in these temperate forest regions. Reliable connectivity in such conditions is not only vital for the provision of localised emergency responses but is also essential to minimising emergency and network maintenance response times when additional support services must be sourced from other locations within the state.

In addition to facilitating economic and public safety gains, the proposed upgrades will also contribute very significantly to the health, education and well-being of residents in these remote and digitally marginalised communities, by supporting their ability to access remote health services and educational opportunities and participate in the increasingly digital life that metropolitan Australians largely take for granted.

It is the Tasmanian Government's sincere hope that this application is successful. If you should require any additional information to support this request, please do not hesitate to contact this office.

Yours sincerely

Hon Madeleine Ogilvie MP

Hi Alex,

Thank you for your advice that you have postponed the 42-24 Threat Detection and Response (SOC) Launch Event on Thursday 21st September.

As you have yet to determine a replacement date, I have cancelled this event in Min. Madeleine Ogilvie’s diary.

When you have some alternate dates, please reach out with them to Daisy Murphy (the lovely lady I have been filling in for) at minister.ogilvie@dpac.tas.gov.au or (03) S.36 (continuing to cc Laura Searle).

Many thanks and kind regards,

Hi Alex,

Friendly reminder to return the completed Event Checklist (pro-forma re-attached for your convenience) to minister.ogilvie@dpac.tas.gov.au by cob Friday 25th August.

If you were able to see your way clear to send that through to me ahead of time, that would be tremendous, as Daisy Murphy returns to this role on Monday 28th August, and I am hoping to have processed this for her before she returns.

Hi Leigh,

Thank you very much for confirming, it is much appreciated.

We would be grateful if the minister can open with a speech and officially launch service/capability with us. Representatives from 42-24 and EY will also present the initiative to the room.

I am happy to provide further information to assist with official duties as we get closer to the event.

We'll return the event checklist ASAP.

Dear Alex,

Thank you again for your invitation for the Minister to attend the 42-24 Threat Detection and Response (SOC) Launch Event on Thursday 21st September.

The Minister would be very pleased to attend, although, as she has another commitment at 10.00am, she must depart your event no later than 9.40am (or possibly slightly earlier, contingent upon the venue you select for your launch).

Could you please let me know if you would like the Minister to perform any official duties at the event, for example, would you like her to speak or present anything?

I have attached our event checklist for completion and return by COB Friday 25th August. Some sections will not apply, and you can skip over them. Closer to the event date, and when available, please provide a copy of the run sheet and confirmed guest list.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Subject: 42-24 Threat Detection and Response (SOC) - Launch Event Availability and Update

Hi Laura,

Hope you're well.

An initiative we've been keeping Kathryn and Minister Ogilvie up to speed with over the past 12 months or so is the build out of 42-24's local, Threat Detection and Response (Security Operations Centre) solution.

The initiative has been developed to protect Tasmania's digital assets and supply chain, as well as to improve the state's cyber security maturity, and address the skills shortage challenge we all share.

42-24 is thrilled to announce that we hit a major milestone earlier in the year, with the execution of our Master Services Agreement with EY (Ernst and Young) that now allows us to officially launch the solution above the line to the market, as well as hire and train the resources we require to deliver the service locally.

42-24 have partnered with EY on the initiative, with ~11,000 Cyber Security specialists across the globe, 160+ SOCs, Microsoft Security Managed Services partner of the year, and a plethora of sovereign, onshore resources assisting all levels of government and enterprise businesses with their cyber journey; working alongside 42-24's local team of cyber security and IT infrastructure specialists to deliver the service.

The role EY are playing in the partnership, is the transition of IP and capability into 42-24 over a 3-5 year period which we kicked off earlier this year after a lengthy negotiation and solutioning period. This is a unique opportunity for 42-24, and the state of Tasmania to have a premium 24x7x365 Threat Detection and Response solution delivered locally, on-island by Tasmanians, with the backing of a global giant in cyber security. 42-24 are delivering this service now to a GBE, and are currently in the process of onboarding a large, state-owned essential services organisation.

EY are enabling 42-24 to deliver the solution locally for the Tasmanian market through cohesive operations with 42-24's own team, as well as through the delivery of cyber security training programs that support 42-24's vision to address the cyber security skills shortage in Tasmania.

As an example, 42-24 have recently hired two new Cyber Security Analysts, one of which is a Uni Grad, and the other an IT Service Desk Engineer looking for career advancement in cyber security who are currently undertaking training through our proficiency program (6 months). As we grow our client base for the solution, we will continue to hire and train new recruits to deliver 24x7x365 Threat Detection and Response (IRAP PROTECTED) services, with critical mass estimated at approx. 30 running the solution. We also work on career development plans with our cyber analysts to ensure they are supported in their career aspirations within 42-24, and welcome the opportunity for them to explore external roles to ensure we are injecting skills back into the industry.

42-24's team is also heavily engaged with the industry and associations such as TasiCT, ACS and AISA, as well as TasTafe where our team has been involved in the shaping of the Cert IV in Cyber Security with the AIG group to further skills and development in the sector.

My reason for emailing is to seek Minister Ogilvie's interest and availability to launch the initiative with 42-24 at a breakfast event in Hobart, currently in planning for 21st Sept 2023 8:30am -10:30am. If the minister is unavailable on this date, it would be great if we can find another suitable time/date in late September as the suggested slot is only pencilled in at the moment.

Look forward to hearing from you.

Cheers
Alex
