Everything seems to be covered very well. I just think it might be helpful, if at cemeteries a sign could help with how to contact the cemeteries manager.

I wonder also, if something could be done about the cost of a burial ? Can any cemetery manager set a price ? The Anglican Bishop of Tasmania has already set a sum of $25.000 for a burial which normal people would not be able to pay and would make the cemetery defunct. I was also wondering how many managers are needed for cemetery's one for each, or as the Bishop now advertised a position vacant for one Cemetery Manager, which would mean this manager would have to look after all Anglican Cemetery's in Tasmania ? Would it not be better for the Government to create a new Cemetery and burial, cremation Authority or Department which includes Health and look after all cemetery's and this matters ? The confusion would be less and people would know that they and their loved ones are being looked after more clearly, streamlined and under one roof since we all get buried or cremated one day ? One could work together with extra Tax and or Rates and councils with their volunteers ? The population is rising as well and changes, are necessary because of the way Churches and Cemetery's were suddenly sold into private hands.

Best wishes and kind regards
