Notes to Table

The Tasmanian Government uses the same broad definition of child sexual abuse as the Royal Commission into Institutional Responses to Child Sexual Abuse, which is victim-centered but takes into account legal definitions and frameworks. The definition can be found on Page 19 of the Commission's Final Report.

Regulatory bodies include: Teachers Registration Board of Tasmania, Australian Health Practitioners Regulatory Authority (AHPRA), Legal Profession Board.

Legal authorities: 'Law enforcement agency' means any agency established to prevent, detect, investigate or prosecute criminal offences and other offences (including, the Australian Federal Police, Tasmania Police, Director of Public Prosecutions), a Commission of Inquiry, the Attorney-General, the Solicitor-General, the Ombudsman, the Anti-Discrimination Commissioner, the Australian Crime Commission, and the Integrity Commission.

Scope of action reported in this table: This table includes suspensions of State Servants under investigation for an alleged breach of the State Service Code of Conduct. This table does not include Tasmania Police matters or civil legal findings.

Description of Register for Working with Vulnerable People (RWVP) processes: If a Government Agency becomes aware by any means, or suspects on reasonable grounds, that a registered person has engaged, or may have engaged, in reportable behaviour, the reporting body is to notify the Registrar, as soon as practicable, of the name and other identifying particulars of the person and of the behaviour (Section 53A of the RWVPA).

'Reportable behaviour' is behaviour that poses a risk of harm to vulnerable persons, whether by reason of neglect, abuse or other conduct.

On receiving a notice under section 53A(1) or otherwise becoming aware of reportable behaviour, the Registrar is to enter the information relating to the reportable behaviour in the Register (Section 53B of the RWVPA).

The Registrar may also cancel registration if they have conducted an additional risk assessment and are satisfied that the person poses an unacceptable risk of harm to vulnerable persons generally or to all the classes of vulnerable persons to which the regulated activities allowed by the registration apply.
